An Old Adage Reads:

"There is a place for everything." Now for everything to be in its place. The Louisville Dispatch should be in the home of every Democrat in the South. The Dispatch is the people's paper, owned by the people and read by the people. The Dispatch is the only Democratic paper published in Louisville. It stands squarely on the Chicago platform. It is not only in a flourishing condition after eighteen months battling against adverse circumstances, but is today the best medium in the South. And its motto—if you see it in the Dispatch it's so; if it's so it is always in the Dispatch, has been fully verified during the American-Spanish war, during which the superiority of its news service has been daily apparent.

The Dispatch news service is furnished by the New York Sun, the Chicago Inter-Ocean, the Northern Press Association and the Leslie Syndicate with an active salaried correspondent in every important city in the world, besides its own staff of over 300 correspondents in Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana. Get the Dispatch, it gives the news, and tells the truth about it.

The Dispatch is Kentucky's greatest paper. You should be a reader. For the next few weeks we will club with the Weekly Dispatch at the extremely low price of 75 cts.

The Court of Appeals has rendered a decision in which it sustains the separate coach law.

It is not now necessary to post land in order to prevent or punish one for hunting thereon. The law has been changed. It is a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25 to enter upon the lands of another for the purpose of shooting or hunting without the consent of the owner or occupant.

MERCHANTS often complain that they have extended credit to customers until they are afraid to allow their bills to grow larger, and when, by mutual agreement, no further credit is to be asked or extended, the customer stalks off to another store that never would credit him and spend his cash. In all reasonableness, fairness and justice, by every law of right and honor, it is the duty of such a customer to spend his cash with the store he owes until every cent has been paid. The merchant who has extended you credit at least deserves your friendship and cash trade until you have paid him all you owe.

How Many Children Has He?
There is an old gentleman living near Sulphur Springs, Ohio

County, says the Hartford Republican, when a few days ago he was asked by some one how many children he had, made the following reply: My oldest daughter has a brother and two half sisters and a half brother; my oldest boy has two half sisters and one sister; my next oldest daughter has a half brother and two half sisters. How many in all?—Winchester Democrat.

The negroes of Millersburg are greatly excited over the belief that George Allen was buried alive. He died apparently, and laid on the cooling board six hours, but was warm when placed in the coffin. The arms were limber and had to be tied across the body to keep them in place. The burial took place, and after the coffin was lowered into the grave the sexton said that the Negroes wanted to act like white folks and left the grave to be filled up by the sexton. When he threw the dirt in he heard a kicking on the lid and went off to get some one to help him take the body up, but could get no assistance. He then went back and proceeded to fill the grave, the entombed man kicking all the time, but no attention was paid to the kick, as the sexton said, it was too late to kick then.—Winchester Democrat

Died From Eating Grapes.

Thomas Brooks died at the home of his father, John Brooks, at Union City Sunday evening, of locked bowels, caused by eating grapes. The deceased was twenty-two years of age and an honest, upright young man. Was a member of the Christian church. Buried in the family graveyard Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The sympathy of the many friends is extended to his bereaved wife who survives him.—Richmond Pantagraph.

Your local paper tells you when to go to church, to court, says an eminent divine, "and when to send your children to school. It tells you who is dead, who is married, who is sick, who is born and many other things you like to know. It calls your attention to public enterprises and advocates the best schools, law and order in town. It records the marriage of your daughter, the death of your son, the illness of your wife free of charge. It sets forth the great advantages, attractions and invites immigration to your town and is first to welcome comers. Yet in spite of all these benefits, some people say the home paper is not half as good as the city paper that has no interest in their business or success. The home paper, like the home church, is too often neglected by those who are benefited by it."—Exchange.

Last week we inadvertently failed to mention that Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Todd visited relatives near Mt. Sterling. It was no lack of courtesy toward Mr. and Mrs. Todd at all, but a mere oversight of the editor. Three Doctors in Consultation.
From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i.e., Theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. Married Again.

Joseph Collinsworth, of Floyd county, a member of the Thirteenth U. S. Infantry returned home and found his young wife married again. At the beginning of the war, young Collinsworth and his lovely wife quarreled and he posted off to join Uncle Sam's regulars. He was in Cuba and the news came to his wife that he had been killed before Santiago. The report was unquestioned, and a month later she was again led to the altar by a Mr. Smith. They lived in perfect bliss until one day Collinsworth turned up alive, and their felicity was destroyed. Upon seeing her lawful husband, whom she thought to be in a Cuban grave, Mrs. Collinsworth affections had a reaction, and again her heart turned toward her first. Collinsworth was newly smitten by his wife's charms, and before he returned to his post of duty, they were re-united. Smith has become reconciled.

Our Uncle Samuels.

The most striking and picturesque figure in all history is the man with long hair and chin whiskers and wearing an old-fashioned plug hat. His pantaloons are in stripes of white and red and his blue swallow tail coat is bespangled with stars. He is the personification of the United States and we call him "Uncle Sam."

He is the composite of the wildcat and the cooing dove—the lion and the lamb, the thunder storm and the summer evening's last sigh that shuts the rose. He is the embodiment of all that is tender and terrible. The world stands appalled at his wonderful strength and power, and yet bows in admiration of his matchless magnanimity.

He is the tallest individual on this mundane sphere, and when he steps across the continent and sits down on Pike's Peak and snorts in his handkerchief of red, white and blue, the earth quakes and monarchs tremble on their thrones.

From the peaceful walks of life he can mobilize a mighty army in sixty days; and in ninety days he can destroy a powerful navy and vanquish an empire.

He is the boss of the western hemisphere, sheriff of Cuba, justice of the peace of Porto Rico and guardian adlibitum of the Philippine Islands. He is brave as Caesar and as meek as Moses.

He is as fierce as a tiger and cool as a cucumber. He wears the tail feathers of the eagle of France in his hat and the scalp of Mexico dangles from his belt. He laughs at the growl of Russia bear, and is always ready for a schooner of German beer. All that is left of Spain since her combat with "Uncle Sam" is her "honah." No longer the lion of England roars at our door, but the twain now stands together for humanity and liberty.—Ex-Governor Taylor, of Tennessee.

Negro Sues For $50,000 Damages.

George Dinning, a negro, has brought suit in the Federal Court at Louisville against Doe Moore, Monroe White, John Phelps, Joseph Flowers, Albert Freeman, Wm. Ragsdell, Wm. Ballard, Pluitt Copeland, Joseph Copeland, John Webb, Samuel Randolph and C. H. Conn, administrator of Jodie Conn, for $50,000 damages. On January 27, 1897, a mob attacked Dinning at his home in Simpson county and he shot and killed Jodie Conn. For this killing he was convicted and then pardoned by the governor. Dinning then removed to Indiana, acquired citizenship there and then brought the suit against the above named men whom he alleges were members of the mob.

A Tennessee man was so delighted at being elected to an office that he dropped dead.

Hon. Tom Fitzpatrick, Democratic Congressman from the Tenth district, was in the city Friday attending the meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee. When asked his views on territorial expansion by a reporter for the Morning Herald. Mr. Fitzpatrick said that he did not prefer to speak for publication on that subject, but thought that the matter should be deliberated on at length before a final conclusion was arrived at, or, to use his exact words, "We will have to put ice on our heads, keep cool and think a long time as to keeping the Philippines."

Mr. Fitzpatrick said that he is at a loss to know what they will do with us, not what we will do with them if they are retained.— Lexington Herald.

A good story is related at the expense of "Bob" Ingersoll. The colonel was recently talking to an old colored woman in Washington concerning religious matters. "Do you really believe aunty," said he "that people are made out of dust?" "Yes sah. De Bible says dey is, and so I b'lieves it." "But what is done in wet weather, when there is nothing but mud?" "Den I 'spects dey make infidels and sich truck."

Valuable Land.

In Shelby county M. Allen and Alex Neal have spent about five hundred dollars laying over about two dollars and fifty cents worth of land. And now the defendant Allen, who laid the foundation for the suit by pulling down a rail line fence and putting up a wire fence a little over Neal's line as he claims and as the Court has decided, has employed additional council to appeal the case.
